Saucier humiliated by aldermen's action

By DAVID PIERSON

Pass Christian Mayor Steve Saucier described himself Wednesday as being "humiliated" and "extremely disappointed" following a Tuesday night meeting at which the city's board of aldermen voted 3-1 to reject Saucier's recommendation that harbormaster Leo Cox be dismissed for "willful refusal to follow a specific and directive order."

"At question here is the basic authority of the mayor to run the city on a day-to-day basis," Saucier said. "What kind of authority do I have if the aldermen will not back me up?"

The events, according to Saucier, precipitated from an incident last week when Saucier told Cox to clean up trash in the harbor area. "He went into a tirade," said Saucier, "telling me that I couldn't tell him what to do and that I wasn't his boss." "What happens to the basic superintending control of the employee?" asked Saucier. "What happens now if another city employee says he doesn't have to do something that's his responsibility?"

Saucier said that he did not know what action he would take, but that he would not "let this be the end of it."

One thing apparently that Saucier cannot do is veto the aldermen's action. Saucier said that the city attorney, Jason Floyd, had consulted the state attorney general early Wednesday and learned that the mayor does not have the veto power to overturn the decision against him.

"The Attorney General," said Saucier, "said that the mayor's veto power only applies to legislative matter and not to administrative matters."

Asked what his next step would be, Saucier said, "I don't know what action I'll take yet, but I haven't given up. I'll do something about it. This won't be the end of it. I may suspend him or even fire him again, and we can go through this whole process again. He may just end up drawing pay for doing nothing. And then again I may not even sign his paycheck."

The aldermen voted down his dismissal request, Saucier said, because "they probably thought it was too harsh a punishment. But this is the wrong kind of employer-employee relationship," he said.

Suicide joke becomes nightmare

LONG BEACH— "Come look, honey!" said Arthur Anthony Hebert, a 56-year-old Baton Rouge man, seconds before he accidentally shot and killed himself with a 38 calibre pistol at the home of a friend Saturday, March 29.

According to friend's accounts, Hebert and his girl friend, Lurlee Williamson, were visiting the home of James Partin, 119 N. Island View, Long Beach, when Hebert took the pistol which he thought was empty, pointed it to his head and jokingly pulled the trigger.

Friends said the pistol belonged to Partin who had removed it from a gun case so that Hebert could look at it closer. Both men supposedly cleared the chamber of all ammunition before Hebert fatally shot himself.

Cox had been notified of his dismissal by a March 24 letter from the Mayor. Cox has been employed as a harbormaster since 1972 and has been a full-time employee since last year when he was given a monthly salary of $525.

Jerry Anderson was the only alderman to vote in favor of Saucier's recommendation. Robert Goff abstained from the voting, and the city's other three councilmen - Horace Necaise, Charles Logan, and Alex Saucier voted in favor of Cox's retaining his position. The aldermen said at the meeting that the mayor and Cox suffered from "a lack of communication."

First customer

Jose Urbina, resident of 1412 Breland, became the first postal patron to benefit from curb service mail delivery to Waveland annexed areas Monday. Urbina said he wanted to shake carrier Paul Cox's hand for the courteous service and to show his appreciation for the new service. Waveland Postmaster Walter Tur-cotte said approximately 389 families will be affected initially by the expanded curb delivery. Memorandums were mailed to postal patrons last week asking residents in the annexed areas to facilitate the new changes by attaching house numbers in a visible manner to their house and mail box.

Aldermen replace commissioner

LONG BEACH - Alderman Sal Giuffria was replaced as street commissioner for Long Beach Tuesday night by a 3-2 vote of the city's aldermen. Mike Rutledge, who was elected to the board in a special November election, will replace Giuffria in the $200 a month job.

An angered Giuffria called the move "political" and claimed that "personalities" and not "the best interests of the city" were involved in the decision.

Rutledge said that the move was not politically motivated and that he had personally received numerous complaints about the city's drainage. "It's not a political move," Rutledge said. "It just has to do with getting a job done. If I can't do it either, I'll vote for someone else and let them try."

Bob Richards made the surprise motion at the meeting because he said Giuffria "can't or won't" solve the drainage problems.

Jimmy Moran, the only other alderman to vote with Giuffria, called Richards' motion "amazing" and then told the other aldermen, "Go have at it, you're running the board now."

Following Rutledge's appointment to the position, Richards was appointed to Rutledge's former position as chairman of the finance committee. The motion was passed by a 4-1 vote with Giuffria dissenting.

In another matter, the board appointed Haydee Brisolala as the Senior Citizen's coordinator effective March 19.

The city also opened and took under advisement bids for garbage trucks, street overlay, and a 3-ton truck. Also taken under advisement was a proposal to update the tax rolls and prepare the tax receipts for 1975 by Honeycut and Associates.

The mayor also presented cash awards to two civic organizations for "exceptional performance" in Long Beach's Operation Clean Sweep. The Junior Civitans were awarded a first prize check of $50, and the Columbian Squires were awarded $25.

Finally, the board took under advisement a suggestion by Jimmy Johnson to open up Jeff Davis Avenue north to Klondyke Road by purchasing two tracts of land that would cost the city about $105,000.

Board attorney hopes to avoid court appearance in suit

BY ANITA DINWIDDIE

Hancock County Board Attorney Sam Favre said Tuesday that he hoped a suit against the Board of Supervisors scheduled for hearing in U. S. District Court, Biloxi, April 10 could be settled by filing legal briefs rather than a lengthy court hearing.

The suit, filed last January by Hancock County resident Harlan Dean, challenges the system of countywide elections and requests a change back to election by beats.

Favre said Tuesday he could not disclose the contents of the board's brief, but did say that since the case was a question of law, it would not involve testimony by witnesses. Attorneys on both sides are asking for a decision on the basis of the briefs alone.

The suit against the board stems from a federal redistricting plan issued by the federal district court in Biloxi March 2, 1970 which ordered beat lines redrawn to comply with the one man-one vote mandate.

The board had attempted to avoid redistricting in 1967, Favre said, by initiating a system of countywide elections. The federal court then allowed the countywide system to remain in 1970 after the redistricting was ordered.

"The 1965 Voting Rights Act will ultimately come into it," said Favre, "because of the 1967 law changing elections to a countywide basis never received federal approval."

"But, when the federal court ordered us to redistrict in 1970 they did not say anything about it being a countywide system, and that could be taken as approval," Favre added.

A suit against Hancock County School board members who are elected under a similar system of countywide election is also based on a violation of the 1965 Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs in this suit charge that board members are serving illegally because a 1968 election law changing the system to countywide elections never received federal approval.

In its suit, however, attorney for the school board Walter Gex, is charging that a return to a beat system would constitute a violation of the one man-one vote rule.

School board attorney Joseph Gex explained that although the school board members are elected from the same beats as the supervisors, the omission of the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland cause an imbalance in the representation of the beats.

Some supervisors fear that any countywide system may have trouble gaining approval under the Voting Rights Act. There have been several cases in other Mississippi counties, Favre said, where countywide systems were struck down by the U. S. Attorney General as racially discriminatory.

"Even if we win this case here," said Board chairman Dolph Kellar, "we are leaving it wide open to challenges on the racial part of it."

Favre said that in redrawing the districts in 1970 to comply with the one man-one vote rule some districts were left without any blacks which could be challenged as discriminatory.

"In some other counties they thought that having countywide elections would solve that problem," Favre said, "but the courts have shown that negroes have a better chance on a beat system, and countywide systems have not been approved."

Waveland Fire Chief praises quick action in tank truck fire

Waveland Fire Chief Kenneth Fayard praised Picayune truck driver Allen Smith Tuesday for his quick thinking in averting what Fayard said could have been a major gasoline explosion when a fire erupted at the Phillips 66 truck stop in Waveland.

Fayard said Smith had unloaded approximately 400 gallons from a 6,200 gallon tank truck when a hose broke spewing gas everywhere.

"When he saw what happened," Fayard said, "Smith turned off the main control valve and got back into the cab to back the truck away from pumps."

Gasoline hitting the muffler ignited however setting the cab on fire.

"He just had time to back the trailer away from the pumps before the cab exploded into flames," Fayard said.

The fire which occurred at approximately 12:15 p.m. was answered by firemen from Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead.

Fayard said 45 firemen on the scene had the fire under control in approximately 10 minutes.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland police cars blocked Highway 90 in both directions for 20 minutes for fear of an explosion from the truck. Firemen, however, were able to confine the fire to the cab and prevent an explosion.

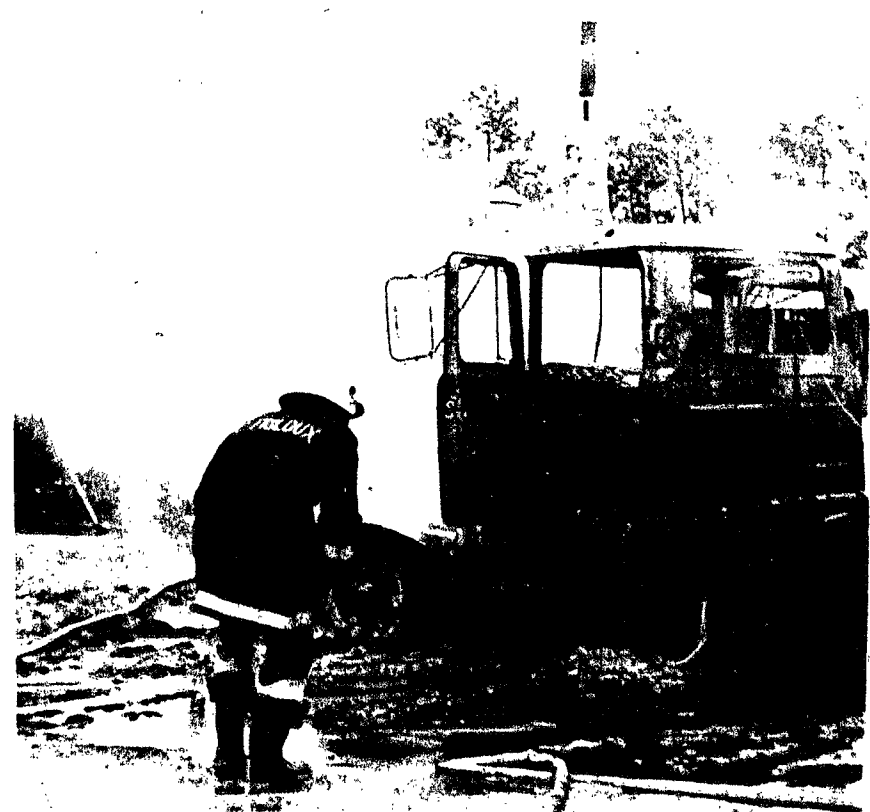

No injuries were reported.

Ladner appointed to LEA regional council

Representative Earl "Buck" Ladner was appointed to the Regional IV Council by the Mississippi Division of Law Enforcement Assistance at the March bi-monthly meeting in Hattiesburg.

Other member of the Regional IV Council from Hancock County are Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and Lucien Kidd.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Council is responsible for reviewing Federal Grant Applications for submission to the State Law Enforcement Commission for funding.

Surveying the damage

A Waveland fireman examines the still smoking cab of a Picayune 66 Oil truck which caught fire Monday while unloading gasoline into pumps at the Phillips 66 station on Highway 90 in Waveland. The cab of the truck was completely destroyed but firemen successfully prevented flames from causing an explosion of gasoline tanks.

Crash victim listed in good condition

A Long Beach man has been listed in good condition in Gulfport Memorial Hospital following a Saturday morning's crash when a car he was driving careened off Highway 90 and collided head-on into an oak tree near the entrance of the Gulf Park campus in Long Beach.

Cecil Slade, 22, of 418 West Railroad Street, Long Beach is listed in good condition following surgery late Saturday. He was reported to have suffered head injuries in the crash.

Another man in the car, Jonathan Parker, 22, of 1111 Joseph Avenue, Gulfport, was released after treatment for possible internal injuries.

Long Beach police reported that about 5 a.m. Saturday the 1972 Ford Ranchero driven by Slade apparently went out of control while traveling west on Highway 90. The car skidded over 100 feet before striking the curb, then traveled another 100 feet before striking the tree.

The Long Beach rescue unit administered first aid, and the two men were transported to Gulfport Memorial Hospital by Mobile-Medic. The car was a total loss.

IRS Reports Two Errors

Two kinds of taxpayer errors on tax returns have delayed IRS Service Centers in processing some refunds, William Daffel, District Director for Internal Revenue for Mississippi, said today.

One of the errors involves incorrectly computing tax due using the Tax Tables. Mr. Daffel said some taxpayers are claiming personal exemptions of $750 each or taking the standard deduction of 15 percent of adjusted gross income, and then using the Tax Tables to figure their tax. The result is incorrect because the Tax Tables already include allowances for exemptions and the standard deduction.

The other error Service Centers have found concerns filings status. Some taxpayers are checking filing status blocks on Forms 1040 and 1040A indicating that they are both single and unmarried heads of household. Each taxpayer should check only one block since filing status determines which Tax Rate Schedule or column of the Tax Tables will yield the proper tax. Guidance for selecting correct filing status appears in the instructions for both Forms 1040 and 1040A.

The errors in these two areas require contact with taxpayers before the IRS can process their returns, resulting in delayed issuance of refund checks to those entitled to them, Mr. Daffel noted.

Postmaster advises businesses on mail

Businesses can speed the delivery of metered mail by bundling letters, face up, with appropriate destination bands, Postmaster J. D. Shadoin advised.

Properly bundled metered mail gets faster service, the postmaster said, because it bypasses processing steps required for stamped mail. Metered letters lose this advantage, however, when they are deposited loose in street collection boxes, he said.

"The problem often arises," Shadoin said, "when businesses mail letters after the mail room has closed. If they deposit a handful of loose letters in a street collection box they are mixed with the stamped mail."

In larger mail-processing facilities it can take up to one hour to cull, face and cancel stamped mail. If metered letters are mixed, they must go through these processing steps, too, the Postmaster said. Bundled metered mail is separated from the stamped mail and can go directly to letter sorting machines, Shadoin said.

During the evening hours this time saving often means the difference between letters getting on the last transportation to the destination area and staying over until the next morning, he said.

"Letters come off the machine already faced, dated, cancelled and sealed ready to be tied-out for deposit," he said.

Metered letters can be properly bundled by several means such as paper lettermail bands provided by the Volunteers statewide will be seeking support for the work of the American Cancer Society in April - Cancer Control Month by presidential and governors' proclamation and by Congressional resolution.

Mrs. Betty Ford is honorary chairman of this year's Cancer Crusade. Actress Raquel Welch is the national Crusade Chairman, and Edward Asner, of the Mary Tyler Moore television show, is Education Chairman.

State Crusade Chairman Mrs. Marjorie C. Rowden, Hattiesburg, and Dr. Thomas Barnes, Greenville, president of the Mississippi Division of the American Cancer Society, announced that the State Crusade goal is $500,000.

In proclaiming April as Cancer Control Month, Governor Waller noted that cancer will strike some 6,600 Mississippians this year, that one of three who get cancer is being cured, and that "at least half" of those who get cancer could be saved by early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

He pointed out that the American Cancer Society, in addition to its support of research, also alerts the public to cancer's warning signals and reminds the public that many cancers can be prevented, such as lung cancers caused mainly by cigarettes, and skin cancers caused by frequent exposure to direct sunlight.

"We are a nation whose history and development have been directed by high hopes of its people and their undiminished energy - even in the face of setbacks and discouragements," wrote Mrs. Ford from the White House, as the national Cancer Crusade got under way. "The thousands of American Cancer Society volunteers who will be working hard to raise urgent funds for cancer research are testimony to this spirit today."

"The strength of the American Cancer Society lies in the thousands of volunteers who give so much time and talent," said Mrs. Rowden in Hattiesburg, "and the Mississippi Division team now numbers well over 18,000 of these volunteers. Last year, they raised $450,000 for the Society's public education and professional education programs and for the research, the direct services and the rehabilitation programs conducted by the American Cancer Society and its divisions at the national and state levels."

Dr. Barnes, the Mississippi Division president said, "We provide pain-relieving drugs, transportation for needy patients, chemotherapy, educational materials such as films, summer fellowships for medical students, courses for therapists, grants for technical conferences. These programs go on year 'round. And costs for these things continue to rise. Things we could do for $30,000 last year will cost $50,000 this year. So it's more important than ever that we get the support from Mississippians we need to maintain current programs and, hopefully, to get into new ones."

Cancer research, said Dr. Barnes, has, in recent years, "improved surgical techniques, developed more effective radiotherapy, opened new frontiers in chemotherapy. There are many former cancer victims alive and healthy today - in Mississippi and elsewhere - thanks to these advances. But we must continue to support the work. There are 1,500,000 Americans that cancer hasn't stopped from living. There could be even more."

Loans Available For GI Students

GI BILL students who can't make ends meet despite recent increases in Veterans Administration education payments are eligible for VA loans to meet necessary education expenses, the VA pointed out today.

The loans are not automatic to all students, VA stressed, but applicants who demonstrate a clear need can qualify for loans up to $600 per academic school year under a recent law.

A December 3, 1974, law (P.L. 93-508), which raised monthly education payments by 22.7 percent, stipulated that loans could be extended only to those students who were found to be in need after the "actual cost of attendance" was compared to the student's "total financial resources."

Eligibility was limited further to students eligible for VA education assistance for attendance at an educational institution on at least a half-time basis. The law specified also that the course must lead to a standard college degree or that it be a course of six months or longer duration that leads to "an identified and predetermined professional or vocational objective." Still another provision was that the student must have sought a loan under the guaranteed student loan program of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

VA pointed out that repayment of both the principal and interest is deferred while the student is enrolled on at least a half time basis, and no interest accrues until the beginning date for repayments is determined.

Installment payments must start within nine months after the student ceases to be enrolled on at least a half time basis. Interest at the rate of 8 percent per year begins at that point, and full payment must be made within 10 years. There is no penalty for prepayment. A 3 percent loan fee is deducted from the face amount of the loan to provide a fund to insure against defaults. Defaults are to be considered overpayments to be recovered in the same manner as other debts due the government.

Students may apply through the VA regional office through which they are now receiving education benefits.

L&N complies with speed reduction

BY ANITA DINWIDDIE

A division superintendent of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, I. L. Bell, said Monday trains operating in Hancock County have reduced speeds to 40 mph since the Feb. 13 derailment of an L&N train near Lakeshore.

Bell attended the Hancock County Board of Supervisors March 31 meeting at the invitation of Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner to explain the radar controls on trains passing through the county. The controversy over the speed of the trains began last month after an inspection of the track revealed it to be in poor repair. L&N has begun repairs on the track, but the Board of Supervisors had requested that the trains reduce speed as a safety measure until the repairs are completed.

"We have reduced the speed of the trains at your request," said Bell, "and we keep time sheets on all of these trains so that we know if an engineer is exceeding the speed limit. If an engineer is found going even 5 mph over the limit, it is grounds for an automatic dismissal."

Bell maintained that speed had nothing to do with either the February or an earlier November derailment. Both accidents were caused by center brakes in splice bars due to metal fatigue, he said. He said that since the second derailment an electronic detector track car has tested the track thoroughly for further evidence of metal fatigue.

"We are repairing the tracks now," said Bell, "but not as a result of the derailments. This is our regularly scheduled maintenance program for this section of the track which would have been done whether any accidents had occurred on the track or not."

Bell offered the services of an L&N projects engineer in making applications for federal money for crossing signals for Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore. He said that the installation of the signal would cost approximately $15,000 to $20,000. The railroad would maintain the signal after installation, he said.

In other business the supervisors discussed a letter received last week from the state aid division of the highway department advising that state aid would be cut off unless three state aid roads in Beat One were properly maintained.

At the March 24 meeting board members had given fellow Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner until March 31 to begin work on the roads, and said that if at that time he had not begun work, the supervisors would take over the responsibility of maintaining the roads. Board members agreed to schedule the inspection of Beat One state aid roads when Ladner said that he had not done the work. "I don't intend to work on those roads in the swamps until I work the roads that people travel," Ladner said. "I don't believe that they are going to cut off those funds if I don't work on those swamp roads. I am sure that they have been written off because of lack of travel."

The board of supervisors were informed by Norton Haas of the Pearl River Basin Development district that the development district would pay 12.5 percent, half of the local cost, for a 201 Waste Treatment Facilities Plan for Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County.

The federal government will support 75 percent of the cost, Haas said, and the county can obtain the remaining 12.5 percent by applying for a federal interest free loan based on income from sales taxes. Haas said that EPA has already made more than $1,000,000 available for the 201 study.

The board also accepted a bid for a turbo-jet fuel facility for Stennis airport from Beacon Equipment Co. at a cost of $24,555. The storage facility is capable of handling 20,000 gallons of fuel, Port and Harbor Director Wilson Webre said.

Lott urges pollution fund redistribution

WASHINGTON - Congressman Trent Lott (R-Miss.) has joined in sponsoring legislation to alter the distribution formula for $9 billion in recently released water pollution control funds.

If enacted, Mississippi's share of the funds would be almost double what they will be under the current formula, Lott said, some states would receive less than their original shares.

Lott said his measure would direct the Environmental Protection Agency to reallocate the money on a formula based 50 percent on population and 50 percent on the latest survey of state needs. This is the formula now recommended by EPA for future funding allocations.

Publisher announces staff promotions

Publisher Ed Hall has announced promotions within the staff of the Sea Coast Echo Newspaper this week.

Veterans eligible for study grants

Veterans in need of financial aid to continue GI Bill education are eligible for increased benefits under the Veterans Administration's work study grant program, Merlyn J. Cook, Assistant VA Center Director for this Regional Office, said Friday.

Cook said that a law passed Dec. 3 increased the amount veterans can earn in the program to a maximum of $625 per semester for full time students who agree to work 250 hours for the agency.

Prior to December, VA could provide a maximum for 100 hours of service.

Veterans interested in work study grants were urged to apply to VA regional offices which maintain their records.

McCleod Park prepares for opening

Final preparation for the deed transfer of McCleod Park to the Pearl River Basin Development District are now being made at the 328-acre campsite located in the center of Hancock County near Kiln.

The deed to the property is presently held by the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation in Atlanta, but will be officially transferred to the authority of the Pearl River Basin Development District at opening ceremonies May 9. Work on the park has been a joint effort by federal offices, Pearl River Basin offices and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Development of the park will be completed in three phases over the next ten years at an estimated cost of $1 million. Phase I which is now in progress includes a boat launching ramp, a swimming pool, a bath house, a baseball field, a picnic area, a one-mile nature trail, piers on the lakefront and underground water and electric systems, said John Parish, Pearl River Basin projects director.

Future improvements Parish said will include extension of all present facilities and the addition of tennis courts and additional boat launches and piers.

"This park will definitely bring in people from all over the United States," said Beat Four Supervisor Bully Zengarling. "I have really been impressed with the quality of the work that I have seen out here that the Pearl River Basin people have done."

Project engineer A. C. Jones said that in addition to the various recreational facilities planned for the park, he is working on a two-story pavilion that can be used for dances, concession stands and as a sundeck.

"We have to be careful, though, in our plans because we are in the NASA buffer zone, and we don't want to build anything in the park that others who own property in its buffer zone cannot build," Jones said.

The park will not be officially opened until the summer of 1976 when all of Phase I is scheduled for completion, but Parish said campers would be allowed to use the facilities as they are completed on a limited basis.

Hearing postponed on shooting charge

Cancer volunteers distribute quizzes

Cancer Society volunteers are presently preparing cancer quizzes to over 40 million families to inform them about protective measures against cancer.

The quizzes, which should be distributed in April, contain information on the seven warning signals that have been cited by doctors, and facts on tests that can detect cancer in the early and curable stages.

A record 71,446 physicians, nurses and allied health care workers are receiving clinical training in Veterans Administration hospitals and clinics.

was set at the request of the defendant, Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said.

Spivey was picked up at his home on Garden Isles Road at about 10 a.m. Thursday and charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. He has since been released under $2500 bond pending his preliminary hearing, said Ladner.

The shooting incident apparently was caused by a family dispute, Ladner said. Mrs. Spivey, 42, was taken to Hancock General Hospital where she was treated and released for a wound in her left shoulder caused by a .38 caliber pistol.

Justice of the Peace Donald Carr is scheduled to hear the case Monday.

Sheriff Ladner was assisted in the arrest by Chief Deputy Lathon Garriga and Deputy James Ladner.

Legislators warned of deficit

Mississippi legislators were warned this week that appropriations for 1975-76 will exceed the anticipated $30 million balance and Mississippians could face a 15 percent tax increase by 1977 to balance the budget.

In the last week of the legislative session Senate-originated expenditures have totaled $636.6 million and House-originated expenditures amounted to $622.6. At the same time general revenues have lowered from an estimated $625 million to $613 million, the Budget Commission announced.

Lawmakers still have about 100 appropriations in conference which might be added to the total before the close of the session. State Auditor Hamp King said that state expenditures have risen this year from an average of $33 million per month to $52 million per month.

House Highways Chairman Clarence Pierce reported that fuel tax revenues are also dropping this year by about four percent. Pierce said that the highway funding may suffer because it is based on an anticipated five percent annual increase.

The House voted this week to suspend the rules and revive a license decal measure which would allow a five-year license plate with annually replaceable decals. The measure had died last week on the Senate's calendar, but will now be resubmitted for Senate approval.

Stennis urges Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) urged prompt passage of the Farm Bill in a speech before the Senate recently.

"The planting season is almost upon us and it is absolutely essential that farmers know exactly where they will stand with respect to target prices and loan levels," Stennis said.

Stennis predicted that the differences between the House-passed bill and the one reported by the Senate Agriculture Committee will appear reconcilable in conference without extreme difficulty.

Stennis said that the outcome of the pending legislation will not only govern decisions as to how much to plant, but in many cases, what crop to plant.

Modern farming requires the investment of large amounts of money, he said, most cases, this investment requires a farmer to borrow money and use his crop as security.

"Last year was a bad one for farmers", he said, "and many now have reduced credit available this year. This compounds the farmers' need to have definite information regarding loan levels and target prices."

Foresters sponsor regional contest

Regional forestry contests for FFA members are being conducted this week throughout Mississippi, with winners scheduled to compete in the state contest at Mississippi State University Saturday, April 12.

The contest sponsored by the Mississippi Forestry Association will include three regional events and the state contest. The northern district contest was held at Pontotoc Saturday, March 22. The central Mississippi district forestry contest was held near Kosciusko Tuesday, March 18, and the southern district contest was held near Columbia at Lake Columbia Saturday, March 22.

Overall chairman of the contest for MFA is Harold Phillips, International Paper Company, Jackson. James Kittrell, Mississippi Forestry Commission, Grenada, is chairman of the northern district contest; D.A. Bozeman, MFC, Rolling Fork, the central district; and Jim Allen, St. Regis Paper Co., Monticello, the southern district.

Maurice Mitchell, Mississippi State University School of Forestry Resources, is chairman of the state contest in April.

Other members of the MFA committee for the contest are: Floyd Adkins, Masonite Corp., Laurel; Robert Burks, Georgia-Pacific Corp.,

Louisville; Wilbert Dahlem, U.S. Plywood-Champion Papers, Oxford; Percy Dorris, Westvaco Corp., Holly Springs; Glen Haywood, International Paper, Brandon; Doug Koski, International Paper, Kosciusko; Carroll Sojourner, International Paper, Brookhaven; Paxton Tate, Crown Zellerbach, Bogalusa, La.; and Mark Vernon, Tenn. ## USDA to amend food stamp regulations

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a swift reversal, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced it will amend food stamp regulations to rescind amendments which would have increased food stamp purchase requirements to a flat 30 percent of net monthly income on March 1.

The action came after President Ford announced on Feb. 13 that he would allow the House sponsored bill to become law without his signature, and it became effective on Feb. 20. This law continues the current method of determining food stamp purchase requirements through 1975. Today's announcement means that current purchase prices for food stamps effective Jan. 1, 1975 will remain the same.

Bicentennial News

By JOE PILET

New Library Looms On '76 Horizon

The people of Hancock County wished upon a star, and their wish for a Public Library will come true during the Bicentennial year. So says Fred Wagner, local architect who has worked long hours with board members of the City-County Public Library in designing a suitable building to house a treasure-trove of books available to all of the citizens of this area.

Persons wishing to view Wagner's concept may do so at the City-County library at Ulman Ave.

Plans are to begin construction in June of this year with completion date possibly by June 1976.

"It normally takes about a year to build a structure of this kind," Wagner explained, "but added labor and weather conditions must be taken into consideration."

The building will front Highway 90 near Ulman Avenue on a five-sided lot where no two sides are parallel! The sheer dimensions of the property posed a challenge. Frontage along Highway 90 is a distance of 119 feet and on the Ulman Avenue side the property is 190 feet. There will be access to the building from both approaches. Parking areas have also been carefully planned.

In terms of finance some $300,000 has been made available for the project. Wagner thinks this will suffice to build a 10,000 square foot structure designed to house 34,000 volumes, but he also makes allowances for "these uncertain times."

Born and educated in the Deep South and a resident of Bay St. Louis for fifteen years, Wagner has an uncommon empathy when he expresses thoughts that went into planning the public library for residents of Hancock County. He is well aware and has a justifiable pride in the fact this library will house an exceptionally fine collection of rare books.

While these books will be in a separate room, and made available primarily to serious students, educators, and researchers, all library patrons will be aware of its availability because of its ready visibility through glass doors. In this way it is hoped many patrons will avail themselves of this heritage.

Young readers will have a spacious department incorporated in such a manner as to make them very much a part of the library and yet apart to the extent they need not feel inhibited in their enjoyment of books "for the very young."

There is a kitchenette, too, primarily designed for use by the library Staff where they may relax, have a light lunch or prepare coffee. Of course, this area will be made available for civic groups who occasionally host the several cultural meetings.

A separate meeting room that will seat approximately 45 people is in the plan. This room measures 30 feet x 25 feet and has a separate lobby. It is suitable for lectures, musical programs, arts and crafts displays, and will doubtless fill a long neglected need for a central meeting place.

A garage to house Book Mobile units is also planned. Since these vehicles will be out of the elements and can be secured with locks, it will be possible to stock a larger and wider assortment of reading matter and better serve patrons.

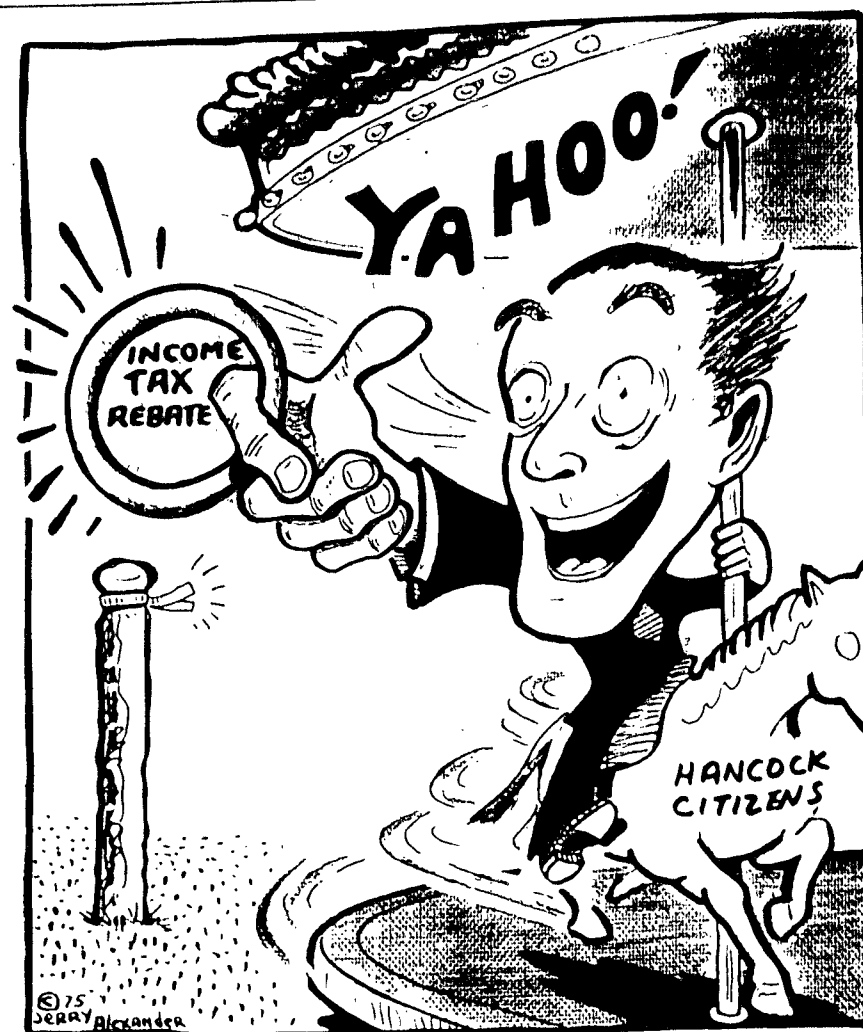

Although the building couldn't be cataloged into any particular period of design, it is functional and well balanced and promises to adequately fulfill the purpose for which it was intended. A comfortable public building to incorporate the several needs of all the citizens of Hancock County and which can grow with the community and in a sense be the center and heart of the county.

In time it may, in addition to lending books, have a music and art lending library. In display cases in the lobby it may house artifacts and museum quality items.

Small details not immediately noticed sometimes make the difference! Windows to be used are of glass that will absorb heat and reduce glare. Aisles are wide enough for comfort, yet planned for economy and full use of available space.

When commissioned to design the library Wagner said, "I accepted the commission feeling primarily this was an opportunity to design a public building for the use of all of the people and to solve not only the utility needs for providing space for books, readers and staff members, but hopefully, to create an appealing and exciting usage for the interior spaces that would encourage the use of these facilities by people who might never have used the facilities of the library before—or who might not have used them regularly."

Wagner said an open advertisement for bids would be placed in the local papers and the various trade magazines would inform those wishing to bid on work of the details.

National Library Week

Your public library, a great place to visit

"There is nothing so stupid as an educated man, if you get off the thing that he was educated in," said the famous humorist Will Rogers.

Unfortunately that's true of a lot of people...but it doesn't have to be the case...nor should it be the practice!

Education deepens our appreciation, enables us to understand and to see truth more clearly, to look at the past and evaluate the present, and perhaps anticipate the future.

No matter when formal schooling ended, the learning process should never cease! Although for a high percentage of Mississippians, acquiring an education often ends with the receipt of a diploma.

Without a continuous input of new ideas, current events, and important facts, our minds will rust! We can't grow without a little "fertilizer" - and education is just that!

The public library, with its reference books, magazines, newspapers, records, films, tapes, exhibits, is THE place for continuing education. And its free!

No matter what subject a patron is interested in, the public library will find the material! And what the local library doesn't have, it can get through interlibrary loan. Whether the needed materials are somewhere in the state of somewhere in the world, the library has access to channels that make them available.

No one need feel "stupid" on any subject. Not with a public library around! Just think, a regular visit to the library could enable you to talk to anyone on just about anything...even Will Rogers, if he were still around!

County Agent's Notes

John W. Smith, County Agent

TAX NOTES

Losses to business or personal property from tornadoes, floods, fires or other disasters that are not covered by insurance or that are inadequately covered can be deducted from both state and federal income taxes, subject to some limitations.

Recent tornado and flood losses are examples of the type damage that can be deducted for the tax year 1975.

Become familiar with your rights under the tax laws so that you can obtain all the benefits to which you are entitled as a result of any loss.

LIVESTOCK PARASITES

If you have dairy cows and do not follow a worming program, chances are that your cattle need worming. Worms do their greatest damage to younger animals four to 18 months of age. Most animals on pasture will contract worms.

There are many excellent materials available that will control worms. Some good ones include Tramisol, not suitable for animals of breeding age; Thibenzole, safe to use on pregnant animals; phenothiazine, not to use on pregnant animals.

Generally worm the herd in spring, summer and fall. Most materials are available in bolus, drench or powder form. Be sure to follow directions to the letter on all wormers. An overdose may kill the animal.

PLANTING INTENTIONS

Based on the March 1 report of the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, USDA, Mississippi farmers will increase acreages of all major crops in the state except cotton.

Cotton acreage is expected to be down 34 percent, soybeans up 25 percent, corn up two percent, rice up 49 percent and sorghum up six percent.

Acreages actually planted this year may be more or less than indicated because of weather, economic conditions, seed supplies, labor supplies, availability of capital and other inputs.

FERTILIZERS

Animal wastes such as poultry litter and livestock manure can be valuable as a substitute or supplement to commercial fertilizers. The wastes are satisfactory for both pastures and row crops. The recommendation for use is for four to six tons on grass or grain crops and four tons on cotton.

Apply animal wastes on row crops and work into the soil during seedbed preparation. It is also best to incorporate animal waste applied to pasture to reduce nutrient loss.

For most crops apply a starter fertilizer such as 100 pounds to 200 pounds of 13-13-13 per acre in addition to the wastes.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Applause by an audience in an American theatre or concert hall is supposed to show that an actor or musician has done a good job and has pleased his hearers. But instead, it has become just a habit. Any mediocre performance today is applauded; and even an act that is downright bad will get a few faint handclaps.

It is different in European opera houses and music halls. There, if a performance is bad, it is followed by silence or even by vocal criticism. There, many an opera has been booed and many a performer has been rewarded with a vocal raspberry.

On the whole, we prefer the European way. Recently we attended a recital in New Orleans by a noted opera star who evidently was having a bad day, for she treated her $10-top audience as if they were a bunch of illiterate peasants. And maybe they were, for they greeted her indifferent, second-rate performance with prolonged applause instead of the catcalls it deserved.

Uncritical applause for totally uninspired work by a performer is most common on television, especially in the case of so-called "talk shows". One in particular, in which a fat-headed, moronic emcee interviews faded former "stars" of various entertainment fields, is awarded two or three minutes of steady applause while a camera pans the audience. Of course the home-viewers are not aware that a man standing out of their sight is frantically waving a large "Applause" sign to keep the uninspired handclapping going or that the fat emcee is grinding out smile after smile to make the home audience think that the applause is a genuine sign of approval for his third-rate show.

One can't blame the witless emcee for trying to kid the home viewers into believing that his show has "gone over" big, for the commercial sponsors of the program rate its success by the amount of applause, real or phony, it receives. And the sponsor's rating determines whether the emcee gets a paycheck or joins the unemployed.

Perhaps, after all, that's the reason for the undeserved handclapping. Audiences believe that the emcee has done his best, however inadequate that may be, so they give him an "E" for Effort. Foreign viewers are more realistic; in London, Vienna or La Scala to applaud a bad performance shows that you don't know any better!

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

When a group of 40 Ocean Springs junior high school students visited me last week in Washington, I asked them to listen carefully to a House of Representatives debate on the free and reduced-price school lunch program.

"Don't be misled by that 'free' label," I told them. "Nothing is free when it comes from the government. Someone has to pay for it. Today, it's your parents. Tomorrow, it'll be you."

I went on to explain that I would be voting later that day against H. R. 4222, the National School Lunch Act and Child Nutrition Act Amendments. Like so many other federal programs, I pointed out, this one has gone too far.

Fortunately, we rounded up enough votes from both sides of the political aisle to defeat a proposed 35-cent ceiling on the amount any student would pay for a federally subsidized lunch. Unfortunately, we will be faced with another version of the same bill after the Easter recess.

Education and Labor Committee Chairman Carl Perkins of Kentucky temporarily withdrew the bill from consideration so that he can try to muster his forces behind the hastily-drawn bill. If future versions of the measure are anything like what he offered last week, I don't think he'll ever get the votes.

The original committee version actually called for a 25-cent ceiling. Once it reached the floor, however, some committee members hiked it to 35 cents, hoping that such a move would win support.

It failed by a vote of 269-144.

"I am confident that all of us agree with the basic purpose of the bill, which is to strengthen the school lunch and child nutrition programs," one of the bill's sponsors, told us. And he was right. I can't think of a soul in the Congress who would disagree with the basic purpose of the bill.

The basic purpose is no longer the question, however. The question now is: "Where do we stop?"

The federal share of the total amount of school lunch funds has jumped from 23.9 per cent in 1969 to 43 per cent in 1974. The total federal expenditure for free or reduced-price meals in 1974 was $667 million, or a percentage change of 1488 per cent since 1969.

If the original committee version of the bill had passed, it would have declared that no child in America would pay more than 25 cents for a school lunch. In other words, whether you can afford to pay for your child's lunch or not, your tax dollar would be subsidizing not only his lunch but every school child's lunch.

If we were to roll back the school lunch price to a maximum of 25-cents per child, it would save a parent $36 every school year.

While that might be all the money in the world to the family who is truly in need of help, it is nothing to the family who can afford to pay the full price in the first place, especially if it will disappear in additional taxes anyway.

"Free and reduced lunches have increased in the last six years from one million to 10 million," a colleague argued on the floor of the House. "That's an increase of nine million individuals. The paid lunches have dropped by three million. What else can we expect when we have permitted individuals who once were paying for lunches to qualify for free and reduced cost lunches."

Another colleague drove home the point with the comment: "There is no such thing as a free lunch. By allowing the children of the wealthy to receive lunch subsidies, we will go deeper into debt and add more of the hidden tax of inflation onto our citizens."

I heartily agree. Here's hoping the Congress will continue to resist similar versions of H. R. 4222.

Ask the VA

The Veterans Administration today reminded married veterans that it is easier than ever to qualify for housing assistance. Ralph H. Martin, Loan Guaranty Officer for the Jackson VA Center, noted the agency now accords full recognition to incomes and expenses of both veteran and spouse in determining ability to repay loan obligations.

Martin said the VA is required by law to determine if contemplated terms of repayment bear a proper relation to the veteran's anticipated income and expenses before approving the loan.

"But while the spouse's income has always been considered," Martin explained, "local rules sometimes had the effect discounting the spouse's income. Now, however, no such local rules are imposed, and spouse's income is given full consideration."

VA guarantees 60 percent of GI loan (maximum of $17,500) private lenders make to military service personnel, veterans and eligible spouses of World War II, Korean and post-Korean Conflicts and the Vietnam era.

Q-What provisions has the Veterans Administration made for veterans who are unable to make it on their own because of age or general disability?

A-The agency has 18 domiciliaries for veterans who fall into these categories. Any VA office will assist in filing application for this benefit.

Q-Does the Veterans Administration engage in technical research to assist blind veterans?

A-Yes. Among projects are ultrasonic eyeglasses that indicate to the blind person his distance from an object, a laser cane that emits beams to detect obstacles and two machines that enable the blind to read.

Q-I just got an honorable discharge after three years in the military service. Am I eligible for a Veterans business loan?

A-Small Business Administration gives special consideration to veterans, and farm loans are available from the Farmers Home Administration. VA's farm and business loans were discontinued under PL 93-569 (Dec. 31, 1974).

Construction In State To Be Let

The State Building Commission announced this week that over $244 million in new State construction is already under way or is scheduled to go to contract this year. The Commission said $120 million in new construction approved by the 1974 Legislature will be let to contract this fiscal year.

Governor Bill Waller, who serves as Chairman of the Commission, said this new construction approved by the Legislature in 1974, plus the work already under way, should be a shot in the arm for the State's economy.

James Chastain, AIA, Executive Director of the Building Commission, said there were 22 preplanned projects funded by the 1974 Legislature. He said all of these will be let to contract for construction this fiscal year ending June 30, 1975.

Projects awarded this fiscal year include: Administration - Classroom building and water system - Alcorn State University - $4 million.

Physical Education Building and Phase II of a Science building at Delta State University - $3 million.

Science building at Jackson State University - $5.5 million. Electrical Engineering building and Cooperative Extension Building at Mississippi State University - $8.3 million.

Physical Education - Assembly building at Mississippi University for Women - $2.4 million.

Cultural Center, Law School building and Chemistry building at Ole Miss - $11.4 million.

Clinical services wing addition to the University Medical Center - $7.4 million.

Communication and speech sciences building, library addition, and a science technology building at University of Southern Mississippi - $4.3 million.

Headquarters and crime lab for Department of Public Safety - $3 million. State Firefighters Academy - $2 million.

State Penitentiary construction - $5 million.

Matty Hersee Hospital, Grande Village of the Natchez Indians, Central Mississippi Retardation Center, East Mississippi State Hospital, Ellisville State School, Mississippi State Hospital, Mississippi Valley State University and the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory - $6 million.

(Projects to be awarded in next four months)

University of Mississippi Dental School - $10.8 million.

Delta State University Education building - $3.2 million.

Jackson State University dining facility - $2.5 million.

Mississippi University for Women speech center - $3.1 million.

North Mississippi Retardation center (Phase III) - $3.1 million.

Furnishings and specialized equipment for the above projects - $10 million.

Repair and renovation of existing State agencies and institutions - $12 million.

Public Junior College construction - $13 million.

Total construction projects let to contract during fiscal year ending June 30, 1975 - $120 million.

Chastain said another $122 million in funded projects are currently under construction. He said this makes a grand total of $244 million in construction funded by the Legislature and currently under way. Another $60 million in projects, he said, are on the drawing boards because of authorization for preplanning by the Legislature, but have not been funded.

Chastain said, "When you add the $37 million in new construction that has been completed by the Building Commission since February of 1972, the State of Mississippi has $341 million in construction projects either completed, under contract or in preplanning since 1972."

Chastain said the 1976 Presidential Election Campaign Fund last year can still designate a dollar of the 1973 federal income taxes to the Fund by checking the appropriate boxes on a Form 1040X, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

Ample supplies of 1040X forms are available at most banks and post offices, according to William Daniel, IRS District Director for Mississippi. Taxpayers may also call their local IRS office toll-free to have a Form 1040X sent to them.

In checking off retroactively for 1973, Mr. Daniel advised, the taxpayer should fill out only that portion of the 1040X relating to the 1976 Presidential Election Campaign Fund. Taxpayers have until December 31, 1975, to check off retroactively.

Taxpayers preparing their returns for 1974 can participate in the Campaign Fund by checking a box on the front of their Form 1040 or 1040A, Mr. Daniel said.

Under legislation enacted by Congress in 1971, all taxpayers with a tax liability of $1 or more have the option of designating $1 of their tax each year to the 1976 Campaign Fund. All money earmarked goes into a general fund to be distributed among all eligible Presidential candidates.

On a joint return, a husband and wife with an income liability of $2 or more may each designate $1 to the fund for a total of $2, Mr. Daniel said. If one spouse wishes to earmark $1 and the other does not, "Yes" and "No" boxes are provided for each. Taxpayers filing individually who do not wish to participate in the Campaign Fund may check the "no" box provided on the front of Forms 1040 and 1040A.

Participation in the Campaign Fund by taxpayers neither increases their tax nor reduces any refund due, the IRS said. The total amount designated by taxpayers for 1972 and 1973, Mr. Daniel reports, amounts to about $30 million.

There are approximately 263,500 rooms in Holiday Inns throughout the world.

Students Invited To Help Restore State Grounds

School children across the state have been invited by First Lady Carroll Waller to join the efforts of other concerned Mississippians to provide a garden setting appropriate for the Mississippi Governor's Mansion now being restored to the grandeur of the 1840s.

Concerned groups and individuals across the state are leading efforts to obtain funds needed to restore the grounds of the Mansion. Plans call for a formal garden, a period gazebo, a fountain area and beds of roses, annuals and perennials.

Dr. Garvin Johnston, State Superintendent of Education, in a letter encouraging student participation, called attention to the fact that it was the school children who voted to name the magnolia the State flower and, later, the State tree.

He added, "I feel it is fitting for them to help with the Mansion grounds as a special Bicentennial project to preserve their State's heritage."

If each school child participated by contributing only a dime, the students could make a fantastic contribution to the Mansion grounds restoration effort."

Earl W. Edwards, Executive Secretary of the Mississippi Private School Association, is also encouraging students at member schools to support the project.

"The Mansion is a building of which every Mississippian should be proud," he said, "and I feel our students will want to have a part in the Bicentennial restoration project which is preserving an important part of our Mississippi heritage."

First Lady Carroll Waller is enthused over possible contributions from the students of the state. Since efforts are being made to have the restored Mansion designated a National Historic Landmark, she feels it is only fitting that the students be given a chance to help preserve their State's heritage for future generations.

"The Mansion belongs to the people of the State," she said, "and it is so exciting to know they do want to help provide the proper setting for the restored Mansion which is the oldest authentic residence built for a Governor."

All donors to the special fund will be listed in a "Friends of the Mansion" book which will be displayed at the Mansion, Mrs. Waller added. Schools taking part in the project, as well as other groups and individuals, will be listed by counties in the book.

Anyone wishing to take part in this effort may send their gift to: The "Special Mansion Fund", First National Bank, Jackson, Ms. 39206. The State Building Commission is responsible for administering these funds.

Nursing home receives approval

Remodeling and renovation plans for Gulf View Haven Nursing Home at North Beach and Ulman Ave. in Bay St. Louis have recently been approved by the Mississippi State Board of Health.

The facility has been granted a Federal Certificate of Need by the Division of Comprehensive Health Planning said Edgar W. Santa Cruz, Administrator of the nursing home.

The project will extend over a three year period and will cost approximately $250,000. Work will be done in stages to enable 75 percent occupancy of the facility while the improvements are being made.

A new fire alarm system has already been installed as part of the improvement project. Future projects will include purchase of new equipment and furniture, improvements to the building interior and exterior improvements to include blacktopping the parking lot.

"The building itself is old," said Santa Cruz, "however the basic structure is extremely sound and the facility and location have many outstanding characteristics."

It has been determined, Santa Cruz said, that physical expansion of the nursing home is not necessary based on a formula of 40 beds for every 1000 in population over the age 65. There are presently 82 patients at the 92 bed facility. Santa Cruz said, however, he added there is land available for future expansion if it should become necessary.

Disaster bill passes Senate

WASHINGTON - Senator James O. Eastland's proposal to revamp Farmers Home Administration disaster relief operations passed the Senate without opposition this week.

"I'm very pleased the Senate moved so quickly in adopting this important and far-reaching legislation," said Senator Eastland. "This bill provides our farmers with efficient and comprehensive relief whenever their per-acre or per-animal production is cut 20 per cent or more by a major disaster."

Eastland, the ranking Democrat on the Senate Agriculture Committee, introduced the measure in late February. The Agriculture Committee reported the bill to the full Senate March 21 and the measure passed the Senate in the opening minutes of the March 26 session.

"This legislation allows the FMHA to make preliminary loans to disaster-stricken farmers as soon as possible after the disaster occurs," said Eastland. "The loan would be finalized after the harvesting and disposal of the crops. This changes present law requiring the crops be harvested and the losses totaled before the loan could be made."

Disaster loans made under the act would be repayable at five per cent interest over a period of up to 12 years, the senator said. An amendment to the bill stipulates that any disaster loan made for a disaster occurring between January 1, 1974, and June 30, 1975, may be repaid over a 20 year period, he added.

According to the Senator, the FMHA will be permitted to make loans to refinance farming operations and to reconstitute debts. Whenever real estate is used as security for these loans, they may be repaid over a 40 year period.

Eastland said that if conventional credit were not available after the refinancing or disaster loans were made, the FMHA is allowed to provide a production loan to keep the farm operating using the crop itself as security. All farmers unable to obtain credit elsewhere will be eligible for these loans and

Some people believe that losing a bunch of keys is fatal.

Stennis pushes for higher limit

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Senator John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) said that he did not believe the housing program of the Farmers Home Administration adequately meets the needs of rural people with its present $10,200 family income limitation in a speech to the Senate March 24.

Stennis warned that a $10,200 limitation is too low under present conditions.

"The limitation was established some eight years ago to aid low income families, he said and while the purpose in fixing a maximum income may have been laudable, I believe the limitation is unreasonably low in Mississippi at this time and under existing inflated conditions."

Stennis urged Secretary of Agriculture, Earl Butz, and the Farmers Home Administration to raise the income limitation. The limitation can be raised, he said, by agency action.

Hancock circuit clerk clarifies voter registration

Hancock County Circuit Court Clerk Henry Otis said Wednesday that confusion had resulted over an article in last week's Echo reminding persons living in Waveland and Bay St. Louis that they must register with their city as well as the county to vote in upcoming elections.

"The only persons needing to register twice," Otis said, "are those persons residing within either the city limits of Bay St. Louis or Waveland."

"These persons," Otis said, "should register with the city and with the county to be properly registered to vote."

Persons living in the county outside the city limits of either city do not need to register again, he emphasized, if they are already registered with the county clerk's office.

"All those who have registered since May 1970," Otis said, "and have received their wallet identification cards do not need to register again."

You may not know it, but it was an apple that caused the Trojan War. A golden apple inscribed "For the fairest" was claimed by the Greek goddesses Aphrodite, Hera and Athena. They insisted that young Paris, a prince of Troy, act as judge. Aphrodite promised him the most beautiful mortal woman, Helen, and she won the apple. Enraged, the two defeated goddesses avenged their pride with the war that destroyed Troy.

State news in brief

Trade mission leaves for Mid-East

Governor Bill Waller and a delegation of Mississippi business men and agriculturists will leave Mississippi April 9 for a three-week trade mission to the Middle East.

Paul Fugate, Executive Secretary of the Mississippi Marketing Council, announces that emissaries in the mission will include Fred Adams and Julian O. Russell, Cal-Maine Foods; Don L. Williams, Mississippi Independent Meat Packers; Travis E. Parker, Parker Agri-Enterprises and Mississippi Delta Rice; Reese E. Griffin, Bryan Packing Company; Bill Allen and A. E. Craft, Jackson Mack Sales; Wilson T. Magee and Hassan Khalib, M-R-S Manufacturing Company; Phil Koonce, Michael Baker, Inc.; and Dr.

David Trammell, Mississippi State University.

Governor Bill Waller said last week that more local support of school financing is needed and that this support could be provided by property tax equalization.

"Since property taxes provide the source from which local districts could come up with the money for education, it is incumbent to move ahead with all deliberate speed to equalize property taxes," he said.

Waller also urged support for issues including early childhood education, required school attendance, an expanded lay Board of Education and better management of 16th Section lands.

Tom Espy, Director of the Mississippi Office of Minority Business Enterprise, has been named to an 11-man task force which will serve in an advisory capacity to the U. S. Department of Commerce on matters relating to minority business programs.

The Mississippi Educational Television Authority is broadcasting a five-part series on mental health on Monday nights. "The Thin Edge" will examine the subjects of depression, aggression, anxiety, guilt, and sexuality.

Governor Waller has signed into law a bill providing for an expanded work release program for prison inmates. Under the program an inmate works to earn money for his family and pays his expenses during the rehabilitation process.

Conservation service takes grant applications

The agricultural stabilization and conservation service announced that the Pearl River - Hancock County office will begin taking applications Monday, April 7, for cost-sharing grants in five conservation areas.

Grants will cover establishing permanent vegetative cover, planting trees, stripcropping, sediment, chemical or water runoff control measures and windbreaks or shelterbelts.

The office also announced that determination of ownership and verifying farmland data is being updated on all farms in Pearl River and Hancock Counties. Boundaries will be identified on aerial photographs. Farmers and landowners are requested to bring the names of all persons listed on the deeds, their social security numbers and addresses to the ASCS office as soon as possible.

Dr. Durward Blakey, Head of Disease Control for the State Board of Health, has urged parents to have their pre-school age children vaccinated against Rubella, commonly called the German measles.

Dr. Blakey emphasized that parents should have their children immunized in the Spring, since the warmer seasons can bring many rashes and diseases that can mimic Rubella.

1974-75 Bay High Cheerleaders

These 10 campus beauties, representing the Bay High School Cheerleading team, gathered recently for this publicity shot in the Bay High School gymnasium where so many cheers were led for the fighting Tigers. The group includes five seniors who will leave the cheers to new faces next year. Kneeling are (l-r)

Cheerleaders rate big plus

By Dan Barber

Some things just don't change no matter how long it's been since you found yourself in school.

Cafeteria food, stays the same, study halls are still a place to make dates and pass notes -- not study, and one or two teachers are always the favorites with students.

And something else that never seems to change are the cheerleaders.

Usually the most attractive, most personable, and most popular girls in their school, they are and always have been a mother's dream and a cross section of the American ideal.

Talk to the cheerleaders themselves and they talk mostly about the long hours of practice and constant pressures to reflect school spirit, rather than the glamor of the job.

"It's a lot of hard work," Bay High cheerleader Sandra Rayborn stresses. "You practice maybe two hours a day, four days a week after cher, grades the cheerleaders of the home and visiting team in five areas. Judges are chosen by the opposing coaches.

Necaise says the program has worked well and picked up interest among the girls. This year's cheerleaders were judged 23-21.

Unlike some schools where cheerleaders are chosen by a faculty sponsor or sponsors, Bay High cheerleaders are chosen by the student body. Five seniors, three juniors and two sophomores are selected for the 10 girl squad. A girl is only chosen for one year.

"There's no guarantee that we will be a cheerleader next year," says Deborah Edwards, a honey-haired blonde. "You have to go through the tryouts again just like everyone else."

The girls say they prefer the number 10.

"It's a perfect number," says senior Charlene Fontenot, a bouncy brunette with an infectious grin. "It's the best number possible for most acrobatics," she adds.

One cheerleader, acrobatic enough to do both pyramids and play the game too, is Monica Price who alternated as a player and cheerleader during the basketball season recently. A star at both she also will graduate from Bay High this May.

Captain and Co-captain are selected among the girls themselves. This year's captain Joy Thomas was assisted by co-captain Deborah Edwards.

"It's a lot of fun," Sandra says. "We love it," Charlene adds. "Are you going to say how cute we are," Deborah asks.

Stanislaus rehearses in new band hall

St. Stanislaus band students have been enjoying new band practice facilities in the Stanislaus Band Hall completed this September.

The band hall building itself is not new, but has undergone a complete remodeling under the direction of architect Fred Wagner of Bay St. Louis.

"This is the third band hall we've had since I've been here," said David Williams, Band Director since 1967. "This building that we are in now was first used as a dorm for aspiring brothers."

The renovation of the old building covered everything except the floor and the ceiling, Williams said. One special feature of the new facility since the remodeling is the addition of individual sound-proof practice booths for students to practice individually or in small groups.

"We started using this building when Camille destroyed the band hall in the old classroom building," Williams said. "We had been on the third floor of that building, but it was condemned after Camille. And this place was available so we used it."

Of course, Williams said, the band hall is much improved after the recent renovations. It is designed to handle an 80 piece performing group, and is quite adequate for the present 52 piece group, he said.

The new band hall also provides a good place for the many awards won by Stanislaus bands, Williams added. One entire wall of the room is devoted to trophies and plaques won by bands under the direction of the late Brother Romuald, the first director of Stanislaus band.

Students purchase their own instruments, except for those who play larger instruments like the tuba or other percussion instruments. The band rehearses as a group after classes, and private lessons and classes are given in the new band hall each day.

Sounds good

A member of St. Stanislaus band uses one of the new sound-proof practice rooms in the new band hall. Rooms are designed for students to practice individually or in small groups.

Watson of East Liverpool, Ohio. Mrs. Santiago flew up to be with her daughter, the former Roselin Duchkar, after she returned home from the hospital with the newborn.

A welcome dinner in honor of Doctor Helen and Mr. Lynn McGehee was held Friday night in the dining room of Diamondhead Country Club. The couple, from Fort Worth, Texas, will be moving to the Bay area this summer. The dinner included members of the medical staff, Board of Trustees, city officials, administrative staff of HGH, and hospital department heads and their spouses.

In the Bearcats only other game of the week, McKay got two hits in three trips to the plate, including a double that scored two runs. He also scored another run in the team's 5-0 blanking of Pearl River, Louisiana.

TOMMY MCKAY

Lansdale spins no-hitter

Bill Lansdale hurled a no-hitter against Pearl River, Louisiana, and the Bearcats went on to win 5-0 Thursday in Long Beach.

Lansdale chalked up his second win of the year, a six inning masterpiece, by whiffing six batters and walking just one. Two other Pearl River batters reached base on errors.

The Bearcats broke open the tight pitcher's duel with a three-run rally in the fifth inning. Lansdale opened the inning with a single, and Bob Richard walked. Tommy McKay then belted a double that scored both Lansdale and Richard. McKay advanced to third base on a sacrifice and scored the third run of the inning on a sacrifice off the bat of Don D'Aquin.

Simmons was the losing pitcher for Pearl River. He pitched five innings, walked two, struck out two and allowed all eight of the Bearcats hits.

Dan Ford, who went all the way for the Rocks, chalked up his second win of the season.

Tim Favre started for Bay High and was tagged with the loss.

Adrian Favre relieved in the fifth when the Rocks regained the lead, and Niles Blaize pitched the final inning of relief for the losing Tigers.

SPORTS McKay two-hits Floridians, 1-0

Tommy McKay threw a two-hitter Friday and drove in the game's only run as the Long Beach Bearcats shutout Fort Walton Beach, Florida 1-0 in Long Beach.

McKay, who went the route for the Bearcats on the mound, walked two, fanned three and was credited with his second win in two starts.

Long Beach shortstop Bill Lansdale singled and was sacrificed to second by Bob Richard. McKay then aided his own cause with a run-scoring double.

Florida's Bolger was the losing pitcher. The Bearcats next game will be a 5 p.m. date against Poplarville Friday in the Harrison Central tournament.

Tigers win opener on the road, 4-3

By DAVID PIERSON

The Bay High Tigers opened the baseball season on a winning note last Thursday edging the Ocean Springs Greyhounds 4-3 in what Tiger coach Claude Yarborough called "a superb defensive effort." It was Bay High's first win on the road in three seasons.

Niles Blaize and Adrian Favre led the Tigers to the win both in the field and at bat. Blaize accounted for two of the Tigers four runs and handled seven chances at third base without an error. Favre went the distance for Bay High on the mound, giving up just four hits and one earned run. He also drove in the Tigers' winning run with a double.

Ocean Springs scored the first run of the game on singles by Danny Havard and Tim McGilvary.

But it was the Tigers that threatened to break the game open in the early innings when they loaded the bases with none out in the second but failed to score.

In the third the Tigers scored their first run of the game when Arnold Fairconnetue singled to right, stole second, and advanced to third on the catcher's wild throw into the outfield. Bill Ginn then grounded out, scoring Fairconnetue.

The two teams then locked into a tense pitching duel through the middle innings with neither team mounting a serious threat.

Then in the sixth, the Tigers rallied for three runs. Ginn drew a base on balls and stole second base. Tim Favre singled Ginn to third, and Mark Thomas put the Tigers into the lead by belting a double to left-center. Pinchrunner Tracy Klein was thrown out at the plate as he tried to score from first base. Niles Blaize then banged out a triple to give the Tigers a 3-1 lead, and Adrian Favre aided his own cause by doubling home what proved to be the winning run.

Ocean Springs put a scare into the Tigers in the bottom of the seventh inning. With two out, Favre walked a batter then he dropped a tricky roller off the bat of Danny Havard. Jimmy Ramer followed by driving in both runs with a long double to centerfield. Favre, however, settled down and retired the final batter on an infield out.

Favre went all the way to get the win for Bay High, striking out one, walking four, and giving up just four hits.

Tim Morrison, the Greyhounds' starting pitcher, pitched six innings, fanned 12, walked one, and was charged with all four of the Tigers runs in the loss. Ramer, who came on in relief in the seventh, struck out two and allowed no hits.

Tim Favre and Niles Blaize were the only hitters in the game to get more than one hit.

Stanislaus rocks Eagles

St. Stanislaus killed two birds with one rock last Wednesday afternoon when they thrashed the St. John Eagles 17-3. They ruined the Eagles baseball debut, and in doing so chalked up their first win of the season.

Although Stanislaus only collected eight hits in the game, the Rocks broke the game open in the second inning with a 10-run outburst. Mike Favre and Mike Price accounted for two hits apiece with Favre's second-inning homerun being the highlight of the game.

Rock starting pitcher Dan Ford pitched five innings and was credited with the win. Mike Graeber and Mike Favre both pitched a scoreless inning for the Rocks in relief.

Pat Prejean, the starting pitcher for the Eagles, was charged with the loss.

Jackets sting Pirates, 4-2

The St. Martin Yellowjackets scored single runs in each of the last three innings to edge the Pass High Pirates 4-2 Thursday afternoon in a Pascagoula River Conference game.

Myron Cook went the distance for the losing Pirates and was charged with the loss. He gave up six hits and accounted for six strikeouts and three walks.

Rick Osley was given the win. He pitched all seven innings for the Yellowjackets and gave up just three hits while fanning six and walking three.

Third baseman Gary Woody of St. Martin was the hitting star of the game with three hits in four at-bats. His solo homerun in the seventh inning was Osley's insurance run.

Episcopal netters edge Gulfport, 3-2

The Coast Episcopal High tennis team kept its perfect team record intact with a 3-2 win over the Gulfport netters Tuesday afternoon at Gulfport.

Anne Johnson extended her personal winning string to five matches with an easy 6-0, 6-2 win over Teresa Joyce. Katherine Johnson and Holly Vegas, the Episcopal girls' doubles team, also remained undefeated by knocking off Doris Ann Lang and Cindy Grovingo 6-4, 6-1.

In boys doubles Perry and Paul Clinkscals upended

Gulfport's David Marks and David Cox, 6-2, 6-2.

In boys' singles play, Jamie Hans lost to Gulfport's Doug DeGroot 6-2, 6-0. And in the mixed doubles match, Gulfport's combo of Ken Compton and Jane Ann Sawyer downed Regina Castelin and Theron Furr 6-1, 6-3.

Gulfport won all five of the B-team matches. Episcopal will travel Friday for a 2:30 p.m. match with Gulfport East. The following day, the Raiders will play in the Coast Invitational Tennis Tournament set for Hiller Park in Biloxi.

Bay netters win

The Bay High tennis team defeated St. John's late Tuesday afternoon 4-1.

Noella Williams swept past St. John's Suzanne Tillman in straight sets 6-1, 6-0, and Bay High's Roderick Singleton downed by Pat Kelly 6-1, 6-4.

In girls' double, the Bay High team of Sharon Kidd and Chris Stieffel outplayed Amanda Bernhiem and Tammy Collins 6-2, 6-0.

Bay High's Keith Flose and Charles Damiani outlasted Guy Todare and Dave Shaws 7-5, 6-3 to take the boys' doubles match.

St. John's won its only match of the afternoon in mixed doubles play where Mary Seymore and Rickey Villeneuve beat Ivan Cobb and Sabrina Williams 6-1, 6-1.

Bay High won all five B-team matches in straight sets. Bay High's next match will be this afternoon against the St. Stanislaus-OLA netters. The match is set to begin at 3 p.m.

Jaycees sponsor gun classes

The Waveland Jaycees will sponsor gun education classes at the American Legion Building on Coleman Avenue in Waveland April 5 for children between the ages of 7 and 14.

The one-day event will begin with a 9 a.m. gun care and shooting technique class. After lunch, the children will participate in competition shooting at still targets. Certificates will be awarded to those who complete the course.

Rocks beat Bay High, 9-5

The St. Stanislaus baseball team made it two in a row over archrival Bay High with a 9-5 win Monday afternoon. The Rocks rallied for five runs in the first inning and then held off repeated Bay High attempts to close the gap.

Both teams scored in the second before Bay High cut the lead to 6-4 in the top of the third inning. Bill Ginn started the third inning rally when he lashed a one-out double, and Niles Blaize walked. Tim Favre doubled Ginn home, and Vernon Powell followed with a single that scored two runs.

But Stanislaus added a pair of runs in the bottom of the inning and another run in the fourth to take a 9-4 lead. Bay High's comeback efforts were repeatedly frustrated by poor baserunning.

In the last inning with a light rain beginning to fall, Rock relief pitcher Mike Graeber ran into control problems and walked several Tigers. Bay High loaded the bases with one out but could only score one run before Graeber struck out the last batter.

Mike Favre, who started the game for Stanislaus and pitched five innings, was credited with his first win of the year. Tim Favre was tagged with the loss. Graeber was given a save in relief. Stanislaus' record is now 3-5, and Bay High's record drops to 1-2. The two teams will meet again Friday at Rockachaw park at 3:45 in the opener of the St. Stanislaus Invitational Tournament. It will be the third time this week the two teams will meet. In their first encounter, the Rocks outslugged Bay High 14-6.

Board awards Rhodes expense money

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday voted unanimously to give Joseph (Doc) Rhodes $300 to help pay for the expenses of his upcoming trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico to represent the United States in the Pan-American games.

Jerry Ladner, Beat One supervisor, moved that Rhodes be awarded the money since the sponsoring national AAU does not finance the athlete's trips.

"I think it would be a great advertisement for Hancock County," said Beat Five supervisor James Travirca.

who promptly seconded Ladner's motion.

The $300 donated by the county will pay for approximately one-half of Rhodes expenses to and from the games.

Rhodes, a 148-pound powerlifter from Bay St. Louis, was named last week to the U. S. Team that will compete April 19-20 in Puerto Rico.

In his most recent competition, Rhodes totaled just ten pounds under the world record, and has said that he will try to establish a new world mark at the games.

He is believed to be the first person from Hancock County to represent the United States in international competition.

Pass drops third in a row

The Pass High Pirates dropped their third game in a row Monday afternoon when the Vancleave Bulldogs exploded for eleven runs in the first three innings then coasted to a 14-4 baseball win.

Scott Cutler of Vancleave was the game's leading hitter with three hits and three rbi's. Johnny Ethernott got two hits and four rbi's for the Bulldogs.

Jack Ulrich and Mark Jenkins each had two hits for the losing Pirates.

Bill Lowery went the distance for Vancleave, struck out nine Pirates and was credited with the win. Aaron Swanier was given the loss.

The Pirates record is now 2-3 with their next game set for 2 p.m. Saturday at home against the Notre Dame Rebels.

Notre Dame blasts Rocks

The Notre Dame Rebels exploded for seven runs in the third inning to break open a free-scoring baseball contest Thursday and defeat St. Stanislaus 11-5 in a Pascagoula River Conference game.

David Pisarich had a perfect three-for-three day at the plate and helped chase losing pitcher Mike Graeber in the wild third inning.

Graeber, who pitched only 2 1-3 innings, was charged with the loss. Mike Favre came on in relief and finished the game for the Rocks. David Marino was awarded the win.

The past weekend was just the opposite from the weekend before. Another cold front came in preceded by rain. Above average tides caused the water to be all over everywhere which was no good for bass and perch fishing.

As I have stated before the best time to fish for bass and perch is when the tide is high and falls gradually. Why they do not bite on a rising tide is understandable by us old timers. Enough for bass fishing.

Regarding salt water fishing it has been on the bad side also. According to those who have been after them. A few speckles and red fish were caught at Half Moon, but not now. Muddy water from the Pearl River has taken over. Let's put it this way. Now is the off time between hunting seasons and fishing seasons. It happens each year at this time. Things should be all right after April. May will be still better and the rest of the summer you can look for real fishing, floundering, hard and soft crabbing. Have a little patience.

Now is gardening time. Time saved by staying off fishing can be used making a garden. It's a pleasure and pays off regarding the family budget.

Read the article last week referring to fishing on the Highway Bridge. The warnings should be heeded. Violators are subject to fines and Game Warden Pat Toomey said strict enforcement will be carried out.

The public brings things on themselves. It is just as easy to help keep our bridges and seawalls clean, regarding the remains of unwanted fish, crabs and other trash.

Fishermen will receive a monetary reward, ranging from $1 to $25, for the return of tags and pertinent information regarding the catching of king mackerel and Spanish mackerel now being tagged and released throughout the Gulf of Mexico and along the South Atlantic coast, according to an announcement by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

The tagging program is designed to study migration and growth rates of both species of mackerel, and the project is a cooperative effort between the Gulf and lower Atlantic states and the federal government.

Persons catching tagged king or Spanish mackerel should send the tag, along with information about the location and date of capture, water depth, fish weight, and tail fork length, along with their name and address to: Florida

D.J. Hasty wins on sloppy track

(Special to The Sea Coast Echo)
PEARL RIVER, LA. - On an unseasonably cold Easter Sunday seven races were run over a sloppy track at Oak Downs.

Top performance of the day was in the five-furlong second race as Johnny Lingo's D.J. Hasty circled the track in an impressive time of 1:04.95, easily beating Lucky Red Patch and Nonnie No No.

Jockey Earl Batia of Biloxi was aboard the first two winners Sunday and moved ahead of Charles Silkwood in the jockey standings for the 1975 meet. Batia has ridden 12 winners.

Joey Schwankhart of New Orleans also posted two wins

Sunday and upped his leading total to 44. Schwankhart finished second four times to bring his season total to 24. He has run third six times.

Second in the jockey standings is Steve Roubion of Covington. Roubion has had 18 firsts, 13 seconds and five thirds.

Merlin Marechal of New Orleans, leading trainer during the 1974 meet, again holds the lead for the current meet. Marechal has saddled 26 firsts, 18 seconds and two thirds.

Second place in the trainer standings is Robert "Red" Crowe of Pearl River with 12 firsts, 13 seconds and five thirds. Virgil Shows of Saucier has had seven winners while a pair of Hancock County trainers, Delbert Cuevas and Larry Favre, are tied with four winners each.

Sunday's off track resulted in generally slow times, except for the second race. The best quarterhorses could manage were two Class B clockings as rated by the American Quarter Horse Association.

Hebert Black's Dial Mark Fiesta had a B time of 19.175 in winning the 350-yard fifth race against Yellow Cat (19.27), and Chuck Johnson's Tev posted a B clocking of 16.62 in capturing the 300-yard fourth race.

Bay High's cinder team ready

The Bay High girls' and boys' track teams travel to Biloxi Friday for a dual meet against Biloxi.

Coach Gary Griffin has the nucleus of a fine boys' track team with six returning lettermen. Among those returning are three of Bay High's four third graders who won district honors last year, Allison Farve, Lee Morris, and Wilford Parker - all juniors - won both district and conference titles in the 440 and 800 last year. Chris Johnson, also a junior, will replace Irvin Hawkins as the fourth man on the team. Hawkins graduated last year.

Also returning will be junior Paul Saucier who will run the 440 for Bay High.

Arnold Fairconnetue, Bay High's play-em-all senior, will compete again this year in the pole vault. Last year he placed third in the state in that event.

"We're weak in the field," said Coach Griffin, "but sophomore Jeffrey Reed has been looking good in practice for us with the discus." Griffin also cited his returning high jumper David Ray as a promising performer in the season ahead.

Coach Willie Bradley's girls' team is the defending district champions and are out to maintain their dominance over their opposition again this year. Bradley's girls have won conference and district titles in four of the last five years.

Among his returning lettermen is Vanessa Labat, a senior who won the district championships for the 100, 75, and 50 yard sprints. Bradley also has sophomores Mabel Williams and Lori Fairconnetue and junior Connie Payne who will compete in the sprinting events for Bay High.

Joining Vanessa Labat on the girls' relay team are two returning lettermen, Connie Payne and Perry Whavers. Lori Fairconnetue is the new member of the relay team that is trying to defend its district championships in the 44, 300, and the 200 relays.

Seniors Perry Whavers and Sabrina Williams will compete as the girls' baseball throwers.

Margie Richardson, a junior, is Bay High's returning high jumper. She finished third in district last year. Also high jumping for Bay High this year will be Karen Piazza and Lisa Robateau, both juniors.

Tiger cinder team

Sugar Bowl selects cage four teams

NEW ORLEANS - The New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, which in the past has brought together some of the nationally ranked teams into its Sugar Bowl basketball tournament, has scored again.

Basketball chairman Elliott Laudeman announced Friday that four teams which posted winning records in the 1974-75 season, Pennsylvania (23-5), Tulane (16-10), Ohio State (14-14), and Tennessee (18-8), will form the field for the 28th tournament in December.

Laudeman also said that the top-ranked team in the nation through the regular season, Indiana, along with South Carolina, Cincinnati, and Georgia, will play in the 1976 tournament here.

Dates, sites, and prices for the 1975 Sugar Bowl tournament will be announced later, according to Laudeman. The Quakers of Penn., ranked 11th in the final United Press International poll and 15th in the Associated Press listing, will be making their first appearance in the Sugar Bowl cage classic.

Under four-year Coach Chuck Daly, the Quakers have been the scourge of the East and the Ivy League. Daly has led them to four Ivy League titles, three Big Five championships, four NCAA tournaments, and to a four-year 90-21 overall record.

The Quakers will return two standout performers in 6-11 junior center Henry Johnson and 6-4 sophomore guard Mark Lonetto, both of whom averaged in double figures the past season.

In addition, John Engles, a 6-8 junior, and Keven McDonald, who scored 25 points per game as a freshman last year, will be counted on heavily this coming college basketball season. Engles two years ago was named Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference rookie of the year when he scored 281 points for a 14.1 average and had 224 rebounds.

Tulane this past season under second-year coach Charles Moir posted its finest cage record since the 1948-49 team. Among its 16 wins was a mid-season 71-57 victory over Kansas State, NCAA East Regional finalist.

Phil Hicks, who was named to the AP Honorable Mention All-American team, is expected to return for the 1975-76 season. The 6-7, 205-pound star led the Greenies in the four most important offensive categories, points (591), scoring average (22.7), rebounds (322), and rebounding average (12.4). In 21 of the Green Wave games, Hicks led the team in scoring and rebounds, and in two other games shared the scoring leadership.

Tulane will also return three other starters, 6-2 guard Tom Hicks, 6-9 center Richard Puriz, and 6-6 forward John Bobzien, along with New Orleansian Pierre Gaudin, a three-time prep scoring champion from De La Salle.

Under Ray Mears, the Tennessee Vols posted their 13th consecutive winning season with an 18-8 overall record and appeared in the National Commissioners Invitational Tournament at St. Louis where they lost a first round game to Bowling Green, 67-57.

The Volunteers will return two of the leading scorers in the Southeastern Conference this year in freshman sensation Bernard King and sophomore Ernie Grunfield, along with sophomore Mike Jackson and junior Doug Ashworth.

King led the SEC in scoring percentage with a 26.6 norm on 639 points, and Grunfield was third with 461 points and a 24.3 average. Jackson hit at a 13.8 clip on 345 points. Ashworth led the SEC in field goal shooting percentage with a 68.6. King was also second in the SEC in rebounds with 12.4 grabs per game.

Although the Buckeyes of the Big Conference only broke even in their season cage schedule, Coach Fred Taylor looks with enthusiasm to the 1975-76 season. Three of his starters will return to form the nucleus of what he considers will be one of his better teams at Ohio State.

Larry Bolden, a 6-0 sophomore guard with a 16.0 scoring average, and Craig Taylor, a 6-10 junior center with a 15.8 point average, started all 28 games for the Buckeyes during the past season. The other starter, Mark Bayless, a 6-2 freshman, scored at an 8.8 points per game clip.

Laudeman pointed out that all of the participating teams in the 1974 tournament, won by LaSalle's Explorers, finished their seasons with winning records: LaSalle 19-6, Alabama 22-4, Furman, 20-6, and Houston 15-10.

PRC construction completed

POPLARVILLE - Most of the construction work at the three campuses of Pearl River Junior College has been completed, with the total cost reaching in excess of $2.5 million.

On the main campus in Poplarville, the pride of the college comes in the form of a new $1 million coliseum which was completed early enough last fall to open for the girls and boys basketball season.

The new facility, referred to by many area sports writers as "the best facility of its kind anywhere," houses the basketball and football teams as well as space for physical education programs. Several new coaches' offices, classrooms and dormitory spaces are also provided in this all purpose building.

The new building will seat over 2,500 people in air-conditioned comfort, and will be used for graduation ceremonies and other large gatherings.

The PRC coliseum was just recently used by area high schools for the District 8 Class A tournament.

Other completed improvements that are in use include Moody Hall, a $375,000 fine arts complex; renovation of Huff Hall, a male dormitory costing $255,000; construction of a new band hall at $144,000; a new faculty home at $15,000; and the resurfacing of the parking area at the Hancock Center, which amounted to more than $16,800.

The Hancock Vocational-Technical Center was put into use two years ago at a cost of $650,000.

A media center has also been completed as a library addition on the Poplarville campus at a cost of more than $250,000.

According to Mrs. James Reed, media specialist, the center is already being put to full use by the students and faculty alike. The center has a wide range of audio and visual aids available for the use of students and faculty.

Another featured addition is the renovation of the Pearl River cafeteria. Once more the construction ran well over the $200,000 mark with improvements being made in all areas.

New equipment from the stoves to refrigerators and even new donut machines were placed in the kitchen. The dining area was also enlarged, giving the building three private dining areas with a seating capacity of 75 each and the large main dining hall.

The only building actually under construction at the present time is the $200,000 diesel mechanics shop which will be completed during February. New equipment will cost more than $60,000 with enrollment reaching 20.

According to President Marvin R. White, construction is not going to stop, but at the present time there is really no major construction left to start. "Of course, we will keep adding and renovating the present buildings, and we're trying to project our future needs," he said.

Hall of famer

Mike Magee, right, Bay High's standout quarterback this past season is awarded a certificate by the newly-elected president of the Gulf Coast chapter of the National Football Foundation, Dick Thames. Magee was honored recently as one of six scholar athletes on the Gulf Coast.

Magee honored by Foundation

Mike Magee of Bay St. Louis was honored recently as one of six scholar athletes selected by the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Hall of Fame and the National Football Foundation. He is the first student from Bay High to be so honored. A six-foot, 180-pound quarterback, Magee recently signed a football scholarship to play at Pearl River Junior College. But he was recognized by the foundation not only for his athletic achievements but also for his "fine grades and performance among fellow students."

He holds a high grade point average and is among the leaders in his class, having been elected class president the past two years.

Among his many honors are selections to the Gulf Coast Conference and the Burger King All-Star teams. He is also a member of the national honor society and a three-year merit student.

Dick Thames, the newly-elected president of the foundation, presented Magee with his certificate of recognition at the Regency Room of Pete Fountain's Buena Vista Hotel. Magee was selected over 25 other candidates on the coast to receive the award.

Women attend conference

Two Hancock Bank officers, Mrs. E. Bonnie West, loan officer, and Mrs. Kathryn C. James, assistant cashier, will attend the Quad-Regional conference of the National Association of Bank Women, Inc. (NABW).

The conference, slated for April 10-13 at the Jackson Hilton, Jackson, Miss., will feature management oriented workshops on current banking issues and speeches by leaders of the business and financial communities. It is one of seven such conferences sponsored throughout the country each spring by NABW. The National Association of Bank Women, organization of women bank officers with a membership of over 14,000, provides programs and services designed to provide educational opportunities and enhance career potential for executive women in banking.

NABW, now in its 53rd year, also awards 17 regional and national scholarships each year for advanced banking and management education and publishes a bi-monthly magazine, The NABW Journal.

Ole Miss looking for Turner, Farris to guide defense

UNIVERSITY, Miss. -- Defensive end play figures to be one of the strong points for the Ole Miss Rebel football team in 1975.

"At least," certifies Rebel coach Thomas Coleman, "it will be if Gary Turner returns to the firing line."

Unable to take part in the current spring training because of the knee damage sustained last Nov. 23 against Mississippi State, Turner is being counted on to patrol the Rebel's right flank this fall. He is a rangy 218-pound junior-to-be, a seasoned veteran who has started at right end for two years.

Coleman hopes to pair Turner with 6-4, 210-pound Bill Farris, who is headed for his senior term with Ole Miss.

Farris, who was injured well ahead of the 1974 meeting with the Bulldogs, was another knee injury victim in '74. His surgery followed the mid-October Homecoming game here with South Carolina.

Greg Markow, a comparative lightweight at 5-10 and 195 pounds, and Robert Arnold, 210, 6-2, were the 1974 seniors at the defensive end berths.

"Markow simply did not make a mistake," explained Coleman. "He was an extremely sound tactician." And Greg emerged with Academic All-America recognition.

Behind Farris and Turner are veterans John Buchanan (6-1 1/2, 200) and Scott Steele (6-2 1/2, 198), a senior who owns three letters claimed at linebacker.

For further reinforcing, Butch Evans (6-0, 190), a junior transplant from quarterback and Theodis McNeal (6-5, 202), a sophomore, man the left side with Farris.

Coleman's summation is based on the active, undered participation of Turner. "If Gary is in shape to play well, and we have no reason to believe he will not be back with us in August, we should have a standout pair of starters along with good depth," he said Saturday.

Along with Turner, Buchanan, an ankle injury victim, is not slated to play in the Red-Blue game April 12.

Beef offers variety menus

The next time you are shopping, notice the tremendous assortment which is available. You could, if you wanted to, prepare a different meat dish every day of the year. Even though you are probably not looking for that much variety, being familiar with the large number of meat cuts will certainly help you be flexible in preparing meals.

Knowing your meat cuts will also help you in selecting meats that are in less demand at a substantial savings. Teamed with the appropriate cooking method the results will be surprisingly pleasant.

Put beef to work for you by preparing these delicious casseroles. They will surely be favorites!

In Our Time

LAWN TENNIS, AS WE KNOW IT FOR THE LAST 100 YEARS, HAS A UNIQUE HISTORY...

THE GREEKS AND ROMANS PLAYED A GAME CALLED "SPHAIERISTERA" (A GRECO-LATIN WORD MEANING "COURTYARD"). DURING THE MID-14TH CENTURY MANY CLOSED COURTS WERE USED IN FRANCE AND A CRUDE RACKET CALLED "BATTIORS" WAS INTRODUCED TO EXTEND THE PLAYER'S REACH. LATER THE HEADS OF THE BATTIORS WERE CARRIED OUT AND COVERED WITH PARCHMENT. MANY PRECIOUS MANUSCRIPTS WERE LOST IN THIS MANNER... IN DUE TIME STRINGING REPLACED PARCHMENT.

1974 NIELSEN SURVEY, INDICATES THAT 16.7% (33,945,000) OF OUR POPULATION PLAYED TENNIS... 35% MEN, 31% WOMEN AND 34% UNDER 18 YEARS.

TODAY, THE PRO-KEDS TENNIS SHOE, LIKE THE TENNIS BALL AND RACKET, IS DESIGNED TO MEET THE MOST CHALLENGING REQUIREMENTS OF THE SPORT.

Shelter offers Collie, Walker hound

Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., will hold adoption day at the Waveland shelter, Spruce Street, Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. There are a number of healthy puppies; a German shepherd and Collie and a Walker hound at the shelter in need of homes.
